30+ YEARS HONOREE NARRATIVES

30 Years

Bernard Livingston

[Thinking about what is most notable of my time at SU], I would have to say the satisfaction of serving the faculty, staff and students. The friendships that I made over the years, these were most notable to me. But the 3 feet of snow we shoveled through in 2010 won't soon be forgotten!

Glen Phillips

I was 26 years old when I started as a locksmith with Salisbury University. While Interviewing for the job, I must have impressed management because I was offered the position and I was asked when I could start. I replied that I could start in a week or so because I was getting married and going on a honeymoon.

Traveling to different schools in many states, I have learned a new type of locksmithing, which is now more on the access card technology side. I was sent to Phoenix, AZ, to be a part of a roundtable discussion with the executive staff of a lock corporation. I brought to their attention a defect in the product they had sold to the college. After further discussion, they agreed to replace 2,500 lock parts that were defected.

Another time, (Locksmith) Larry Fields and I were called to the office and we were told we were going to New York for training. We were told they had one problem, if the plane went down, they would be without a locksmith. This was right after 9/11 and Larry Fields had never been on a plane.

Jeanne Whitney

It is hard to select just one important moment from 30 years. Among the most notable are the opening of the quilt exhibit I co-curated in 1995, the annual weekend work trips to the Norfolk area when I advised SU's Habitat for Humanity and going to Ghana on James King's Hays-Fulbright fellowship.

35 YEARS

Melinda Khazeh

My most notable memory during my 35 plus years at Salisbury University was being a member of the construction and planning committee for the Alumni House. When I started in 1986 as a contractual employee, our office was located in Holloway Hall. In 1996, we opened a beautiful home for our alumni. It created a prominent facility that made a statement on campus and welcomes alums when they return for a visit, attend special events, reunions or meetings. To be a part of this planning committee and working with board members, architects, contractors, decorators was an experience I will always treasure. In addition, I will always cherish the many alums and staff members who I have connected with over the years who shaped many lifelong friendships.

David Rieck

I remember my first lecture, walking into the large lecture room in Devilbiss Hall. From the front of the room, I looked out at 100 first-year students, all nervous and anxious, but eager to learn chemistry (at least that is how I recall it). I immediately realized that I was, without question, the most nervous and anxious person in the room, but also the most eager for the learning to begin. I have taught over 200 classes during my time at SU. They have all been extraordinary, and each one has been different from the others. But, one thing they all have in common is that I still experience the same nervousness and anxiety and, most importantly, the same eagerness I felt on my first day.

Wayne Shelton

My best memory from my years of service is sharing humor and a smile, which goes a long way to making a better workplace. I found that to be especially true during difficult times. I also appreciate my friends who tolerated my corny "dad" jokes and occasionally chimed in. You're the best!

50 YEARS

Debra Bailey

It is hard to believe that 50 years have passed since Mr. Joe Gilbert, then the Assistant to the President, offered me a position at Salisbury State College. Accepting that offer has turned out to be one of the best decisions I have ever made. To give you a sense of how long 50 years is: I have reported to five directors of Physical Plant and served under seven University presidents.

While it is difficult to name one specific memorable event during my 50 years at Salisbury University, the things I remember the most are the friendships that have been cultivated over the years. It is not often when a group of coworkers can brighten a person's life. There are many dedicated, hardworking employees who I have worked with who have made the University what it is today and those that I have worked with the closest will always have a special place in my heart.

Best wishes for many more rewarding years with us.
