OFFICE OF CONFERENCE PLANNING

“Our first priority is and should always be our people,” SU President Carolyn Ringer Lepre outlined as part of her “Salisbury Seven” initiatives during her State of the University address earlier this year. I couldn’t agree more. I have the privilege of working with a small but mighty Conference Services and Facilities Reservations team. Please meet “my people”:

Iva Riggin is an administrative assistant. She goes above and beyond for everyone. She listens to her customers’ needs and assists them with having the most successful event possible. She has tremendous initiative and is always thinking about others. She’s a real gem. She also has a special affection for Sylvester the Cat.

Mario Ramirez is an office clerk II. He is a people person and spreads sunshine and kindness across campus with everyone he meets. He is willing to help anyone and to assist with any task. He stops and picks up trash anywhere he sees it. Make sure to send him a special (Super Mario) greeting on Mar10.

Do you belong to an association that hosts its events or conferences on another college campus? Do you think it might be a good fit at SU?

Scott Garrison is a facilities reservations manager. He goes out of his way to think about every single angle for every single event. He has such a breadth of knowledge about SU facilities and events. Scott is often the peacekeeper between groups competing for space on campus. He constantly puts others’ needs ahead of his own. He also loves Star Wars. (Maybe he’s a secret Facilities Reservations Jedi?)

I am so grateful to work with such skilled and professional staff. Thank you, Iva, Mario and Scott for everything you do for our office and the SU community.

Director of Conference Services and Facilities Reservations

Frostburg State University - Upward Bound

Salisbury University hosts the 2023 Frostburg State University Upward Bound Program Monday-Thursday, July 10-13.

Upward Bound has been a part of the Frostburg State community since 1981. It provides support and preparation to college bound students. The program also provides opportunities for students to succeed in their pre-college performance and, ultimately, in higher education.

Upward Bound visits SU for a first-hand look at the college experience. Participants will see what it is like to live in a residence hall, eat in a dining hall and take classes on a college campus.

Tri-State (DE-DC-MD) Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators Neophyte Training

Salisbury University hosts the 2023 Tri-State Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators Neophyte training Monday-Thursday, July 17-20.

Neophyte training is a week-long program that is geared toward giving an overview of Title IV financial aid for new and experienced financial aid professionals who would like to receive a refresher on the information.

Topics include the application process, student eligibility, verification and documentation, federal updates, and more.
