EASTERN SHORE BASEBALL

You've probably seen the exhibit of baseball-related photos on the first floor of the Academic Commons, but did you know there's more? Up on the 4th floor, in the Thompson Gallery, you will find a more elaborate exhibit, "Friends & Rivals: Baseball on Delmarva." You'll learn about the baseball greats who played on our fields; the mighty Oakville Eagles, an African American team that once won 48 games in a row; and the "Bloomer Girls" who defied society's view of women to play ball. You'll see original equipment and other artifacts as well as video of a 1927 game between Salisbury and Cambridge and 1940s video of "donkey baseball" with actual live donkeys. Open M 10-6, Tu-F 10-4:30, and Sa 10-2.

Research Help

Unsure of where to start your research for that course assignment? Started your research but hit a roadblock? Can't figure out which database would be best to use? You can get help with these and other research-related problems at the Research Help Desk, which is the left side of the Library Service Desk (as you face the Desk) on the first floor of the Academic Commons near the Café. No appointment necessary—just walk up and ask! And if you're not on campus or just prefer to communicate online, you can use our chat service—go to our website (salisbury.edu/libraries/) and scroll down to the "Chat with the Libraries" box on the left side and voila!
